A GROUP OF MERRY FELLOWS

THEY PASS A FEW JESTS FOR THE EDIFI-CATION OF THE MULTITUDE.

No Breach of Promise.

Mrs. Bliss-You're awfully mean, Bradley. You know you positively agreed to give up tobacco.
Mr. Bliss.—This isn't tobacco, Edith. It's from a package marked "Indian's Delight" that Tom Brown sent me from Litchfield, Conn.

A Remarkable Find.

(Prom the Norristown Herald.)
A turtle with "Adam, B. C. 1," engraved on its shell has been found near Chutonville, Pa.

[From Texas S(flings.]
Brown—The price of coal is fluctuating. Robinson-Yes, the price goes up and down, but the weight remains stationary in the neigh-borhood of 1,600 pounds to the ton.

Many Members of This. "Of what school of novelists is Miss Amateur ?"
"Well, I judge from the crudeness of her style that she belongs to the 'Young Ladies' Boarding-School."

[From the Philadelphia Record.] Mrs. Youngwife (in a temper)-And did you marry me because you wanted a housekeeper ? Her Husband (mildly)—No, my dear. If I'd wanted a housekeeper 1 should have married some one who knew how to keep house.

Very Much Attached to It.

"I suppose," said the visitor, "you get used to life in Sing Sing ?" "Oh, indeed, yes," replied the prisoner. "We get very much attached to the old place. That is why we don't leave it sooner."

A Brilliant Outlook for Edwin.

[From Harper's Basar.]
Poor Suitor (to rich belle who has accepted him)-I-I cannot give you diamonds, my dear. I am poor.

Rich Belle—Oh, never mind, Edwin, I can buy my own, all I want: but you can give me an occasional ruby or sapphire now and then.

[From the Lowell Courier.]
One of the primary schools of a neighboring town had returned to the A-B-C system of teaching reading after having used the word system for some years, and a younster was showing how well be could read. I—c—a—n," and inter-preted it, "I see a hen." His treacher must lie under suspicion of being a cockney.

No One Crowded Him.

Gentleman (to tramp just coming out from Central Park)-How is it inside, friend, Tramp-Well, fairly crowded, sir. Gentleman-D'you think I'll be able to get a seat."

Tramp—I don't think you'll have any trouble, sir. I found none. I had a bench all to myself.

She Misunderstands. [From the Chicago Tribune.]

Miss Canada (blushingly)-I am sorry, sir, but I can never be anything more to you than a

Uncle Sam (aghast)-Christopher Columbus. young woman! You misunderstand me. I'm not courting you. I am only offering to be a father to you.

After the Cards.

Red-Eyed Dick-Hold on, Bill, my gun sin's Called-Off Bill-Yer don't know how yer scart me, Dick; mine ain't, nuther. (They drink).

Resignation of Chief Justice Simson. IBY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION. 1 LEIPZIG, Jan. 17.-Dr. Simson, President of the Supreme Court, has resigned after protesting against the strictures of Prince Bismarck.

The Plain Truth

Is that Hood's Sarsepartils has oured thousands of peo-ple who suffered severely with rhaumatism. It neutral-ines the lactic acid in the blood, which causes those terthis pains and aches, and also vitalizes and enriches ins blood, thus preventing the recurrence of the disease. These facts warrant us in urging you, if you suffer with rhoumatism, to give Hood's Bareaparilla a trial. Sold by all druggists. 81; six for 85. Prepared only by 0. *. Startling Views on the Perplexing Negro Question.

Great Republicans Think the Fifteenth Amendment a Mistake.

Colored Men Are Not Now Fitted to Fill the Fat Offices.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 18.—Gen. Mahone left this morning for Wilmington, N. C., where he will remain a few days before proceeding to Washington.

ceeding to Washington.

He has secured the indorsement of all the prominent Republicans of Florida and the two Carolinas for Postmaster-General in Harrison's Cabmet.

Can be described by the convulsions became more frequent and more violent. Father Curran was present at the death-bed scene.

two Carolinas for Postmaster-General in Harrison's Cabmet.

He spoke freely this morning on the color question. He said in reference to a colored man for the Cabinet: "I've heard that the colored ruce desire representation in the Cabinet, but they are too advanced in asserting themselves in that particular. It is not approved of by the Republican party as a whole. There are fanatics who desire such a consummation, but none others. In unity of sentiment with the larger and more liberal element of the Republican party, I do not approve of any such pretension. To be candid, I regard such a proposition as too absurd to enter to any appreciable degree into the volitical situation."

When told that one of his colored visitors had been a candidate for Congress and was now contesting the seat of the Democrat who was declared elected, Gen. Mahone said:

"Well, however correct it may be in American citizenship and in the ultra-Republican red of the clored of such candidacy, it is wrong in rediev inst now. The colored was in work instructed.

Summing up his views on the negro ques-tion, he said; tion, he said:

"The negro is here and he must be justly dealt with. He has rights which are deserving of respect. It will not do, however, for the negro to force himself into a false position. He is entitled only to such places as he can fill. It will be false logic to put him in a position for which he is unequal because of a humanitarian sympathy for him. He must be educated and he must assist in equation himself by appreciating and avail. educating himself by appreciating and avail-ing himself of the advantages that are offered him by public or private agencies.

"If the negro persists he will alienate his beat friends. The best minds of the North and of the Republican party feel that it is a heavy load to carry; for so feel Senator Hear and other great men who are at this date forced to admit that it was a mistake to make him a participant in the functions of government which require intelligence and a indicious use of franchise to discharge properly." either mental or physical.

The man's end was agonizing in the ex. Scientific Magic Wrought by Prof. Sloane.

Their Wives in Five Other Schools.

Six lectures, forming the second series of THE EVENING WORLD'S course of free lectures to the working men and women, were given in as many public schools of the city last night.

In the large assembly room of Grammar School No. 51, at 523 West Forty-fourth street, Prof. T. As carry as 7.15 o'clock they com menced to crowd in, and at 8 o'clock every available seat was occupied. Prof. Sloane is a good talker, and has an interesting way of illustrating his lecture.

The Professor's subject was "How to Study Science at Home," and he said the experiments which he performed could be rerepeated in any household with articles in every-day use. The Professor utilized the school piano as a table, and it was littered with glasses, candles, tin pans and other common, every-day articles.

"I shall endeavor to explain what centrifugal force is. It means something flying from the centre. For instance, take a piece of stone and attach it to a string. If I take hold of the end of the string and whirl the stone about my head, my hand wil recognize that there is some force at work. That force is centrifugal force because the stone, following the laws, is endeavoring to fly from its centre."

The Professor took a double piece of string and tied two ends to the rim of a tin pan.

"Now," said the scientific gentleman, "I twist this string; now as it unwinds it will impart a high rotary motion to the tin. As the pan will endeavor to escape from its centre you will see it whirl and whirl until it gradually assumes a horizontal position."

The Professor whirled the pan, and the ac-tion was just as he said. He made various to all the exasperating people, who seem to other experiments, a very pretty one being think that ticket-sellers are machines without the sense of feeling.

IDENTIFYING THEIR OWN

MANY VICTIMS OF BURGLARIES CALLED AT POLICE HEADQUARTERS TO-DAY.

There has been a constant stream of visitors at Police Headquarters to-day, and they have inspected a van load of clothing, jewelry and other valuables seized in a house where lived two desperate burglars and the sweetheart of one of them.

The callers had also taken a look at the burglars themselves in a sub-cellar cell. The two burglars and the sweetheart make up the three mysterious prisoners who were locked in a cell at Headquarters. Tilghman, a burly negro, who was Taylor's outside man" in many midnight burglaries in Jersey City, Newark, Elizabeth and other Jersey towns, was picked up an hour later in the West Twenty-seventh street house, and Jennie Webster, who is a charm-ingly pretty little mulatto of twenty years and the mistress of Taylor, was found there

From the rooms of the trio was taken the plunder now lying in the museum. It consists of the following:

A silver cup marked May, a small silver tray, an old-fashioned beaded purse with "T. II. Simon" engraved on the silde, a pair of large silver bracelets, two pairs of jet and gold bracelets, one jet pendant in form of a sunburst, a pair of crape buttons, a crape bar pin, a jet beaded and gold bracelet, silver nugget lacepins, three gold pencils, a silver thimble in a box marked "H. B.," a fancy gold bracelet, a plain gold wire bracelet, two Japaness leather packethooks, two pairs of turquoise earrings, a gold and hair breastpin, a silver breastpin in the shape of a satchel, a lizard design silver breastpin set in diamonds, a lace pin set with three diamonds, two gold safety pins, a lot of plain and ornamental gold tinger rings, some old coins and a child's pearl necklace.

overcoat and silverware valued at #460. but he found none of it in the museum. Nor was S. A. Elkington, who lost English clothing and a roll of $112 on the same night, any more successful.

J. C. Freeman, of 156 West Twenty-third street, found his missing ulster to be the one worn by Tilghman when arrested, and Jeweller Chaupenois, of 5 Maiden lane, identified a handsome gold and silver bracelet, a gold watch and chain and several gold pens as those stolen from his house, 32 Gillet place, Newark, on the night of Jen. 5. Frank Spingamin, of 7 Madison avenue, Jersey City, recognized an overcoat stolen from his house in November.

It is believed that the prisoners had something to do with the assault upon Broker Daniel H. Bennett at 190% Forrest avenue, Jersey City, but Inspector Byrnes denies that he has anything like convincing evi-

Inspector Byrnes declares that he has evidence against Taylor and Tilghman to convict them of enough burglaries to send them to Smg Sing for sixty years apiece, but he has notified the authorities in several leaves either the authorities in several Jersey cities of their arrest and will probably hear more things. The men will be arraigned before Justice O'Reilly at Essex Market Police Court late O'henly at Essex Market Police Court late this afternoon and meantime identifying parties are accumulating evidence against the prisoners by claiming various articles in the collection found in the rooms of Jennie Webster, who seems to have acted as fence to her male friends.

WORLDLINGS.

There are said to be about a dozen negro phy sicians in Brooklyn, some of whom have been in active practice for fully forty years. Henry M. Stanley's real name is John How-lands, and he is a Welshman by birth. He was a school teacher when a young man and has taken care of himself since he was thirteen. Senator Berry, of Arkansas, was a soldier in the Confederate army at the tender age of sixteen. He lost a leg at Shiloh, and after the war became a school teacher in Carroll County, Ark. Shortly after he had established himself there he was elected to the Legislature, and from that time it has been plain sailing for him in politics.

Among the catters this labrating was some Johnson, of 371 Pleasant avenue. His cago and probably in the West, is the Church of the Ascension, the rector of which is the Rev. cago and probably in the West, is the Church of E. A. Larrabee. Father Larrabce is a tall, reed and rather handsome man, greatly beloved by his congregation. He is even more ex-treme in his views than was Father Ritchie, now the of this city, who was his predecessor as recto rays of the church.

A Reader With a Critical Eye.

In the issue of Jan. 15 Mr. Stockton's story read as though the vessels were fitted up with electrical machinery exclusively. Does it not seem strange then to read in the third instalment of the vessels "steaming." Can not some term (if there be none at present) be coined to signify propulsion by electricity?
